John's part of the Florida Gulf Coast is rocked by a Category 5 Superstorm followed by a Global Pandemic. John works a school shooting, a police shooting, and a serial killer case. John's step-daughter goes missing and he must find her. John works a murder case directly related to the Global Pandemic.

In the post-Hurricane Michael and post-pandemic world, John works some of his most personal and baffling cases. John works a puzzling case where two teen girls are attacked in the swamp near where the old train track crosses the river. John works a Christmas Eve case where a pre-teen girl from a good family vanishes without a trace from her locked house while her mom and brother sleep nearby.

Carla Pearson, who has been like a daughter to John, goes missing, and he must find her.
